

Meeting with representative from East Sarajevo University

In the morning of 2 September 2019, Dr. Vesna Tanguz from East Sarajevo University, Faculty of Agriculture, visited the Julius Kühn Institute (JKI), Institute for Strategies and Technology Assessment (SF). The aim of the meeting was to discuss possible cooperation perspectives between the two institutions as well as to exchange scientific ideas. Lecturer Dr. Vesna Tanguz, presented on agricultural research objectives and scientific structure in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Every year, in the first week of October, the University organizes an international conference "Agrosym" which is traditionally well attended and which we are sincerely invited to attend.

After this introduction, the SF delegation (Dr. Burkhard Golla, Dr. Jörn Strassemeyer, Dr. Anto Raja and Zvonimir Perić) had a dynamic discussion with questions. Dr. Anto Raja and Zvonimir Peric presented a presentation on current research in SF in order to get a full picture of cooperation possibilities. The risk assessment tool SYNOPS for an integrated crop protection management was of great interest. There is an interest to use SYNOPS tool in Bosnia and Herzegovina. We also discussed a possible joint application for future EU calls on our research topics. In the end, we took a photo together to memorize these meeting.
